

Dear friends,

This July, I will celebrating my 27th birthday. A lot of people are making jokes about how I'm getting old, you know, "almost 30!" Is 27 really that old? Anyways, this year I had the idea to do something good for my birthday. As you know, I really like helping Mongolian kids and so I thought, why not try to raise some money for my birthday and get some kids some much needed school books? I need your help though, when Edurelief began, we focused a lot on $20 donations. It was really effective too, a small impact on your wallet, a big impact for kids. This summer I want to up the challenge by $7. How does that sound? $27 donations for my 27th birthday. It'll be fun, and who knows, maybe we'll raise money for 27 kids, maybe 27 schools! You in?

From now until July 10th, I'll be tracking the campaign over at <http://27.edurelief.org> so check it out and donate $27 today. I'll make sure that 100% of these funds turn into getting books for kids in Mongolia. Wanna celebrate with me? Here's your chance.

Thanks everyone, much love from Mongolia,

Jonathan
